Tagliente returns to provide Maryland leadership punch

By Eddie Timanus
USA TODAY

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — Carla Tagliente is used to being in the middle of the action.

The Maryland field hockey midfielder has scored 14 goals this season, including four game-winners.

Tagliente, the 1997 Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year, played last season in a starting lineup that included seven seniors.

She was one of only three starters to return to the 1998 lineup.

Although she's a sophomore, Tagliente has assumed a leadership role.

"Our roster is mostly freshmen and sophomores this year, so we don't have much of a hierarchy," Maryland coach really stepped forward."

Maryland struggled early but learned a valuable lesson thanks to Old Dominion. The top-ranked Monarchs defeated the Terps 7-0 Oct. 8.

"Old Dominion showed, (they) taught us how to play national championship field hockey," Meharg says.

Maryland rebounded the next game, beating three-time defending national champion North Carolina 5-0. Tagliente scored two goals and notched an assist in the win.

The Terps won their fifth in a row Tuesday night, defeating Penn 5-1. Tagliente, the ACC's leading goal-scorer, tallied eight goals during the streak, but was held scoreless Tuesday.

Sophomore star: Maryland midfielder Carla Tagliente, one of three returning starters from 1997, has scored 14 goals this season for the 12-5 Terps

"It feels like we're in a groove," Tagliente says. "Every individual has taken it upon themselves to control their performance. It's helped us out."

Tagliente also has distinguished herself in the classroom. She was the 1997 valedictorian of Marathon High in New York state.

Meharg sees Tagliente combining her intelligence with her

"She's very coachable and really able to take anything we say to her and make it happen," Meharg says. "She has great field vision."

Tagliente always enjoyed sports, including basketball and softball. She even played tackle football on a boys team from the fourth to sixth grades.

She doesn't remember any of her quarterbacking stats, but ber is how many times mom held her breath."

Tagliente chose to concentrate on field hockey as she closer to college.

"I saw a lot of opportunit it," she says. "It's a challeng thought playing for Mi would help me reach my tential. I knew the program like a good match for me."

The 1997 team was honored by the University of Maryland for posting the highest combined GPA (3.12) of all the varsity teams on campus during the 1997-98 academic year.

Terps Look To Build Upon '98 Success

Young and talented nucleus leads Maryland into 1999 season

Judging by the results of the 1998 season, 1999 could be a special year in the storied history of the Maryland field hockey program.

Last year, after losing eight starters from the 1997 squad, the Terps were thought by many to be in a rebuilding stage. Instead, they stunned the conference by winning the ACC title with the youngest of the five teams. Maryland concluded the season by advancing to the NCAA quarterfinals.

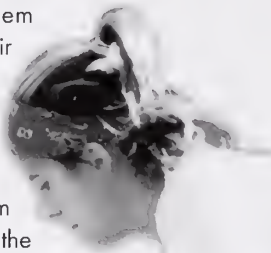
This season, Maryland returns eight starters, all of whom are sophomores and juniors. With a strong spring season behind them, as well as a summer in which several players competed on the international level, the Terps are poised to be one of the elite teams of the 1999 season.

"Every season is exciting, however, based on our spring performance and the extensive summer that the Terps have been involved in, 1999 will be a season of top-level hockey," said head coach Missy Meharg. "Winning championships is unquestionably fun, but the group understands the importance of working hard 'in the moment' and recognizes the meaning of sacrifice for each other's dreams."

Leading the way for the Terps are junior midfielder Carla Tagliente and junior forward Keli Smith, both of whom earned All-America honors last season. Tagliente, who led the Terps last season with 17 goals and 41 total points, was named to the first team. Smith, who was second on the Terps with 10 goals, was named to the second team. Smith was also named to the All-ACC team.

This past summer, Tagliente was a member of the U.S. National Team, which competed in the Pan American Games, and Smith was on the U.S. Under-20 team and was its captain for its tour of Argentina in March. In short, Tagliente and Smith have become two of the top collegiate players in the nation.

"Keli and Carla bring a contagious, elite level of hockey to our squad," said Meharg. "Sure, their hockey is good. Still, what separates them from most athletes is what is in their souls. They have very different playing styles which compliment each other on the field."



Molly Kauffman

If anything, the impressive performance of last season's team was made possible by several of the newcomers, all of whom return this season. Sophomore forward Dina Rizzo and sophomore back Autumn Welsh became full-time starters in their first seasons at Maryland. Rizzo scored six goals last year, and Welsh was named the ACC Rookie of the Year. Both players were on the U.S. Under-20 team this past summer and will continue to bring a high level of hockey to the Terps.

"Top recruiting paid off in 1998," said Meharg. "In losing eight starters from the 1997 squad, the coaching staff needed to find players with the talent to play immediately for the Terps. Dina and Autumn had been in our files for quite some time and were our top two choices from the (1998) U.S. Under-19 team."

Sophomore forward Caroline Walter, a member of the German Under-21 team, and junior back Rachel Hiskins, a member of the Victoria (Australia) Under-21 team, who both had impressive first seasons with the Terps last year, figure to continue their success in 1999. Walter was named to the ACC All-Tournament team, and Hiskins scored the winning goal in the ACC title game. Walter was also second on the Terps with 31 total points (nine goals, 13 assists).

"Caroline and Rachel have developed into top-level competitors," said Meharg. "They have handled the expectations of Division I athletics and academics with complete confidence."

Megan Kelly

Junior back Molly Kauffman, who became a full-time starter last season, is back to anchor the backfield. After being a reserve in 1997, she became an immediate starter last season, and ended the year by earning Mid-Atlantic Region All-America honors. She tied for third on the Terps with 30 total points (seven goals, 16 assists) last season. After playing this past summer on the U.S. Under-20 team, and serving as its captain at the Four Nations Tournament in June, Kauffman is geared toward having an equally, if not more impressive 1999 campaign.

ACC CHAMPS

With the youngest team in the conference, Maryland dethroned five-time defending ACC champion North Carolina in the conference semifinals, 2-1 in penalty strokes. The Terps then upset top-ranked and host Virginia to claim their second-ever ACC Championship with a 1-0 overtime win.

The win over the Cavaliers was also memorable, as it was the first-ever ACC field hockey game to be televised live, as it was carried on Home Team Sports.

"Molly is our field general in the backfield," said Meharg. "Her personality lends itself to responsibility. She gained a lot of exposure to top-level play this summer on the U.S. Under-20 team. She is a top-level player and is ready to anchor our team."

Another junior who became a full-time starter in the backfield last season is Sarah Rappolt. Last season, she scored twice and had pair of defensive saves. Still, it is her overall style of play that impresses Meharg.

"Sarah is one of the most tenacious, outrageously aggressive competitors to play at Maryland," said Meharg. "Her style is her flair, and her character can be seen through the way she plays."

Dina Rizzo

Sophmores Carol Senkler and Megan Kelly and junior Lindsay Gorewitz are versatile players who can play in either the midfield or backfield. All three players gained extensive playing time last season, and this past summer Gorewitz was a member of the U.S. Under-20 team. This past summer, they were teammates on the United Summer League (USL) team based in the Tidewater Region. With a full year of diverse competition under their belts, Senkler, Kelly and Gorewitz could have a more prominent role in the Terps' attack this fall.

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

Nine members of the 1999 Maryland field hockey team have competed at the international level. Juniors Keli Smith and Molly Kauffman served as co-captains of the 1999 U.S. Under-20 team this past summer.

Player	Last Team	Year
Lindsay Garewitz	U.S. U-20	'99
Rachel Hiskins	Victoria St. U-21	'98
Mally Kauffman	U.S. U-20	'99
Carissa Messimer	U.S. U-20	'99
Dina Rizza	U.S. U-20	'99
Keli Smith	U.S. U-20	'99
Carla Tagliente	U.S. National	'99
Caroline Walter	German U-21	'97
Autumn Welsh	U.S. U-20	'99

"Both Megan and Carol are very versatile players," said Meharg. "They have exceptional attacking skills and good team defensive awareness. Lindsay is a very solid defensive player with impeccable skills on the ball."

Senior forward Emily Ward and senior goalie Zoe Ehrlich return for their final seasons with the Terps. Ward cracked the starting lineup last season and recorded her first career goal.

"Emily brings both experience and maturity to our team this season," said Meharg.

Ehrlich has been the team's backup goalie for the past two seasons and is ready to step into the starting role.

Complimenting Ehrlich is sophomore tranfer Ashley Hohnstine, who comes to the Terps after a year at American.

"We've got a whole team of goalies and I feel very good about it," said Meharg. "I'm really excited for Zoe because she has represented the school in an outstanding fashion. Ashley is an elite level goalie and has tremendous potential. Between the two of them, we have a lot of security in the goal cage."

Sophomore Kristy Palchinksy, who bounced back from a leg injury last season, returns to the backfield this season. Redshirt freshman Kateri Simon (forward/midfield), Carli Harris (midfield/back) and Angie Klingerman (forward) also figure to compete for playing time this season. Harris competed on the United Summer League's Tidewater team along with Kelly, Senkler and Gorewitz.

The Terps didn't need to replace many starters from the 1998 squad, but in freshman forward Carissa Messimer, Meharg feels the team has gained a player who will make an immediate impact on the team. Messimer is a two-time high school All-American as well as a member of the U.S. Under-20 team. She ended her high school career by scoring 145 goals, the third-highest total ever recorded by a U.S. high school player.

"Carissa is an elite impact player who fits in very well with our style of play," said Meharg. "She has an aggressive mentality in front of the goal cage. We are honored to have her here."

Joining Messimer as newcomers to the Terps this fall are freshman goalie Jamie Sauer, freshman midfielder Dawn Christensen and freshman back Emily Greway. In addition, sophomore goalie Jackie Reilly, who played on Maryland's club team last season, joined the Terps during the spring.

Although the Terps fell one game short of the Final Four last season, it was evident that the groundwork had been laid for a tremendous 1999 campaign. Having had a productive offseason, Maryland is eager to continue what they started last season.

"The coaching staff expects a standard of hockey that utilizes our team speed and individual skills," said Meharg. "With so much returning talent and team passion for hockey, the Terps are prepared to be in position to repeat as ACC champions and pursue the national title."

TOURNEY REGULARS

Maryland has competed in the NCAA Tournament for faur consecutive seasons and eight of the last nine years. In those nine years, the Terrapins have advanced to the Final Four three times, the championship game twice and captured the 1993 NCAA Championship.

Last season, Maryland advanced to the quarterfinals for the fourth straight year.

Head Coach Missy Meharg

Delaware '85 • 12th season at Maryland

Head coach Missy Meharg, the winingest coach in school history, begins her 12th season at the helm of the Maryland field hockey program. Since 1988, she has compiled a record a 164-67-9. Meharg has led the Terps to the 1993 NCAA title, and ACC title in 1992 and 1998. She has been named the NCAA Coach of the Year twice (1991 and 1993) and the ACC Coach of the Year three times (1992, 1995 and 1998).

Last season was a special one for Meharg in many ways. On Sept. 20, she won her 154th game at Maryland and became the all-time winningest coach in Terrapin history. Sue Tyler, who coached the Terps from 1974-87, held the old record with 153 career wins. On Oct. 31, Meharg became just the second field hockey player in Delaware history (where she earned her bachelor's degree in 1985) to be inducted into the Blue Hen Hall of Athletic Honor. Finally, on Nov. 8, Meharg led the Terps, who were the youngest team in the conference, to the ACC championship for only the second time in program history. That same weekend, she was also named the ACC Coach of the Year for the third time in her career.

In her 11 seasons at Maryland, Meharg has led the Terps into the NCAA Tournament nine times. In addition to winning the NCAA crown in 1993, the Terps reached the NCAA finals in 1995 and the semifinals in 1991. Heading into the 1999 season, Maryland has reached the NCAA Tournament quarterfinals four straight years.

Meharg's accomplishments have not gone without notice. In addition to being named NCAA Coach of the year twice and ACC Coach of the Year three times, she has been named the Mid-Atlantic Region Coach of the Year five times (1990, 1991, 1992, 1993 and 1995).

The field hockey program Meharg runs is a testament to her emphasis on hard work, both on the field and in the classroom. She has had 38 All-America selections and 55 National Academic Squad selections during her 11 seasons at Maryland.

During her time at Maryland, Meharg has coached several players who have also competed on the international level. The Terps have been represented in the Olympic Games, the Pan American Games, the World Cup, the Olympic Qualifying Tournament and other various national team tournaments. This past summer alone, former Maryland stars Christine DeBow and Kate Kauffman, along with current Terp Carla Tagliente, represented the United States in the Pan American Games in Winnipeg. In addition, current Terps Keli Smith, Molly Kauffman, Autumn Welsh, Dina Rizzo, Lindsay Gorewitz and Carissa Messimer were all on this year's U.S. Under-20 team.

While she has maintained a top-notch program at Maryland, Meharg has also been a prominent coach on the international scene. She was an assistant coach on the U.S. National Team from 1994-97. During that time span, the U.S. competed in the 1994 World Cup (held in Dublin, Ireland), the 1995 Pan American Games (Mar del Plata, Argentina), the 1996 Olympics (Atlanta, Ga.) and the 1997 Champions Trophy Tournament (Berlin, Germany). Meharg was also the head coach of the United States Under-21 team in 1995.

Meharg's playing career was just as prolific as her coaching career is now. She was a two-time All-America forward at the University

WINNINGEST COACH

Missy Meharg became the all-time winningest field hockey coach at the University of Maryland when the Terps defeated Massachusetts, 3-0, in the finals of the 1998 Terrapin Invitational on Sept. 20, 1998.

With her 154th victory, Meharg broke Sue Tyler's mark which had stood since 1987.

Assistant Coach Andrea Bradley

Delaware '88 • 3rd season at Maryland

Andrea Bradley begins her third year as a full-time assistant coach at Maryland. In addition to being the top assistant, she works specifically with the team's goalies.

Prior to arriving at Maryland, Bradley was an assistant coach at Iowa for two years (1995-96). Before her tenure at Iowa, she was the head coach at Goucher College from 1991-94. In her four years at the helm, Bradley led the squad to a 37-18-2 record. She was named the South Regian Coach of the Year in 1992 and led Goucher to its first-ever NCAA Tournament appearance in 1994.

Bradley was the starting goalie for the University of Delaware from 1984-87. During her freshman season, she was a teammate of Maryland head coach Missy Meharg.

After earning her bachelor's degree in physical education from Delaware in 1988, Bradley went on to earn her master's degree in exercise physiology from Northern Illinois in 1991.

Currently, Bradley is an assistant coach on the U.S. Under-16 team. She is an instructor for the United States Field Hockey Association (USFHA) Level One coaching certification program. In addition, she is the Regional Coaching and Administrative Director for the USFHA Future's program in the Chesapeake Region.

This past July, Bradley led the Chesapeake Regian Under-16 Futures team to a gold medal at the 1999 National Futures Tournament, which was held at the University of Maryland.

Assistant Coach Steve Simpson

Maryland '88 • 5th season at Maryland

Steve Simpson begins his fifth season as an assistant coach at Maryland. A 1988 Maryland graduate, Simpson has had extensive experience playing, coaching and officiating field hockey since arriving in the United States from in England in 1977.

From 1997-98, Simpson was an assistant coach for the U.S. National Team. University of MARYLAND

Leading the Way into the 21st Century

- A Carnegie Research-I University
- Member, Association of American Universities (AAU)
- Flagship of the University System of Maryland
- Division I NCAA Athletics

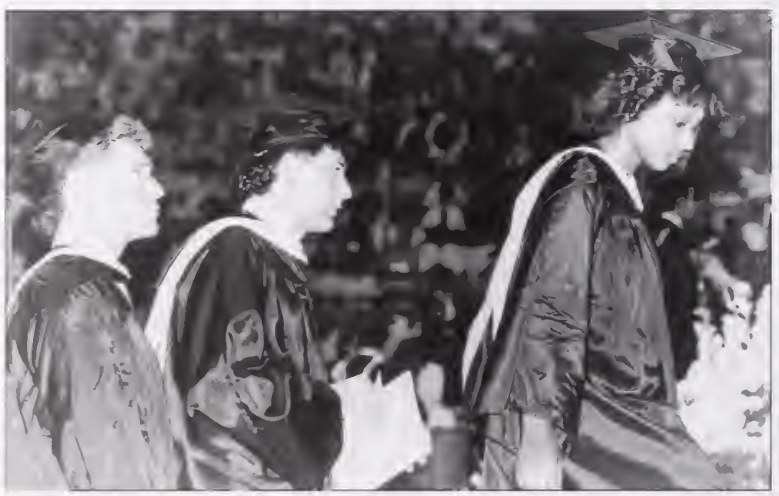
"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."

That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Ten years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.

Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment.

As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions, and accept ambiguity."

And we also hope you enjoy the journey.



The Campus

The University of Maryland, College Park, is the most comprehensive institution of higher education, research and service in the state. The university offers 100 undergraduate majors, 88 master's programs and 69 doctoral programs in 13 colleges and schools.

The university is one of only 30 public research universities that are members of the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities. It is classified as a Research-I university by the Carnegie Foundation by virtue of the range of its baccalaureate programs, the amount of federal support received and the number of doctoral degrees awarded each year, sharing that honor with the top research universities in the country.

Among the public universities in the Association of American Universities, Maryland ranks among the top in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. In addition, the university has the largest number of African-Americans and other minority members among its peers.

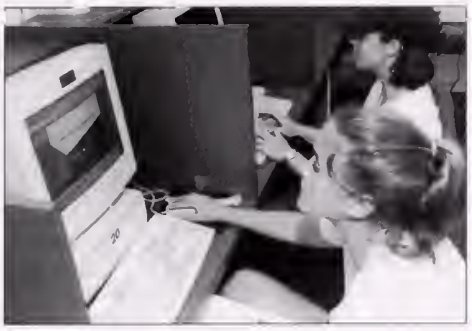
Flagship Status

In 1988, the University of Maryland, College Park, was designated as the flagship institution for the University System of Maryland. As well as pursuing a serious research mission and continuing its high level of service to the state, the university rededicated itself to providing the highest quality graduate and undergraduate education. Increased undergraduate opportunities for research and individual study; the development of the College Park Scholars Program and the expansion of the University Honors Program; the genesis of Honors Humanities and Gemstone; the creation of CORE, the general education program; and the establishment of the Center for Teaching Excellence all affirmed the legislature's designation of flagship.

Libraries

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library, White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.



Research

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their special interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus, and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

Service

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support, and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

A Wired World

Students at the University of Maryland are part of an academic community that enjoys free access to networked computer resources and facilities that are among the best in the country. Free computer accounts enable users to store class work on a networked server, download classroom support materials and other electronic information from campus networked resources such as inforM, or send electronic mail to faculty.

PRESIDENT C.D. MOTE, JR.

C.D. (Dan) Mote Jr. took office as president in September 1998 with a clear vision for taking the University of Maryland down the home stretch to its destiny as one of America's great research universities.

Mote came to Maryland from the University of California at Berkeley, where he had earned all of his degrees, and where he had served in faculty and administration more than 30 years. He had most recently been vice chancellor for university relations.

In Maryland, he found a university already well on its way to achieving the greatness envisioned when the General Assembly declared it the flagship institution of the University System of Maryland. Mote immediately took a leadership role on the Governor's Task Force on Governance, Coordination and Funding of the University System of Maryland to gain greater autonomy and flexibility for the university to pursue its goals. He followed that by working closely with state leaders to boost university funding for new programs, scholarships and faculty, gaining a 10 percent appropriations increase in his first year.

When the legislature had finished its work for the year, Mote spelled out in his inauguration address his vision of Maryland as a great research university, where teaching and research are "inseparable." In this plan, the faculty creates a culture of excellence that permeates the university, student success is the center of all activity, and the extended Maryland family of alumni and friends grows rich in pride and tradition.

High achievement has been Dan Mote's life, from his student days at the University of California through his years as an outstanding teacher and world-renowned researcher and his leadership of a highly successful capital campaign at Berkeley. He arrived in College Park determined to continue the same level of achievement in his new post.

After earning his doctorate in engineering mechanics from Berkeley in 1963, Mote spent a year as a research fellow at the University of Birmingham in England, then three years as assistant professor of mechanical engineering at the Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh before returning to Berkeley in 1967.

There he stayed for more than 30 years before coming to Maryland. He was promoted to professor in 1973.

Mote and his wife Patsy live in the President's Residence on the College Park campus. They have two grown children and four grandchildren.

Maryland TERRAPINS

Among the Nation's Best

This is Maryland Athletics

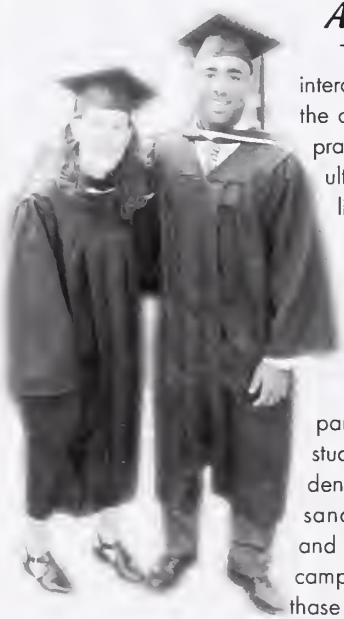
At the University of Maryland, winning is not taken lightly. Like the rich history of all its sports programs, championships are a tradition.

Since the 1950s, Maryland has established itself as one of the most successful athletic programs in the nation. This type of success is no accident; it has been built year-by-year on the achievements of outstanding young men and women who were given the opportunity to excel both on and off the field of play. The victories, the championships and the national acclaim are all ingredients of the Maryland athletic program. Student-athletes who attend Maryland are part of a program and a university which thrives on tradition and excellence.

Athletic Success

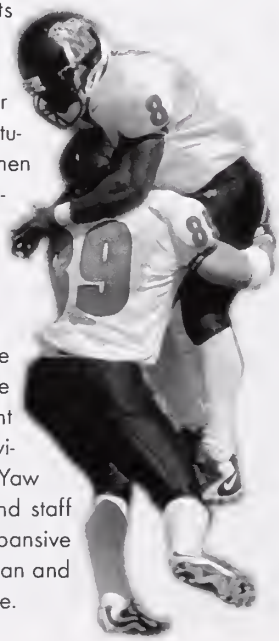
National championships, conference championships, national rankings and postseason play are all a part of the University of Maryland experience. The University of Maryland has established itself as one of the nation's elite athletic programs. The Terrapins have won 13 national championships, including a record four consecutive by the women's lacrosse team. The Terrapins had plenty of reason to celebrate when it came to intercollegiate athletics in 1997-98, as they posted their highest finish ever (No. 19) in the national Sears Directors' Cup all-sports ranking. Its 38-position jump from the No. 57 spot in 1994-95 is the greatest in that time by a school not previously ranked in the top 25.

Academic Excellence



The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletic program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body. Since 1983, 88 percent of freshmen scholarship athletes who completed their eligibility at the University of Maryland earned their degrees.



Goals

The great thing about being a Terrapin is the commitment to hard work and dedication. At the University of Maryland, the athletic department is dedicated to supporting a well-balanced Division I program. Athletic Director Deborah A. Yow and her dedicated coaches, administrators and staff have re-engineered the department into a responsive and financially sound model – with a clear vision and a determined drive toward national prominence.

Competition

Wearing the Maryland uniform means playing in front of some of the loudest and most supportive fans in the nation. It means playing against the best teams in the country, in the most prestigious conference in the country, the ACC. It means wearing the school colors with pride. It means doing your best in athletics and academics. It is a unique and special feeling being a Terrapin.

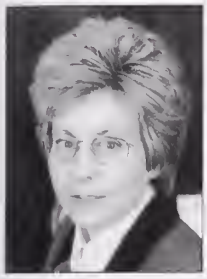
Athletes in the Community

From the media spotlight to the community spotlight, Terrapin student-athletes strengthen the ties of the local community by serving as role models. Community service is a key part of the Terrapins' agenda. Student-athletes support many community programs which help to enrich the lives of Maryland youth while teaching the importance of studying hard and saying "no" to drugs and alcohol. Representatives from the University of Maryland athletic department speak to participants and use their image and the appeal of sports to encourage Maryland children to stay in school, improve their reading and writing skills, and to receive their high school diplomas.

Athletic Director Deborah Yow

Yow to assume presidency of NACDA in July 2000

Dr. Deborah A. Yow has led Terrapin athletics to balanced budgets, high levels of productivity and achievement and a vigorous commitment to excellence throughout its operations. She is beginning her sixth year as Maryland's director of athletics.



Since taking over at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.
- Balanced all five of the more than $25 million annual budgets (the first balanced budgets for the Terrapins in 10 years).
- Improved graduation rates for student-athletes, above that of the general student population, in three of those five years.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 10 percent of all NCAA Division I schools.
- Reorganized and upgraded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased 85% and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by 270% during her tenure at Maryland.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Paid off $7 million in operating debt accrued before her arrival in 1994.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fundrasing applications.
- Significantly improved customer service in every area.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past five years, Debbie Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied ... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently ... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools ... to work hard and work smart ... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves." As a manager and leader, she clearly models these principles.

Dr. Yow is a member of the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee. In addition, she will become president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics in July 2000, and was recently singled out by Street & Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading athletic administrators in the U.S.

A former basketball coach, she began her coaching career at the high school level in North Carolina before taking over as head women's coach at the University of Kentucky in 1976. She also achieved an outstanding coaching record as head coach at the University of Florida. She later moved into athletic administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, followed by a highly successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics, management, and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Summing up the entire Terrapin athletic program, Yow recently observed, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the Maryland Educational Foundation and M Club members who serve and give liberally. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our successes ... and the basis for our bright future."

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the university's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

The mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit, headed by assistant athletic director Demetrius Marlowe, is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that enhance the academic progress, facilitate the career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of every student-athlete.

MAPS Directory

This directory, the Maryland Athletes Placement Source, is produced annually by the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin their professional careers.

Distributed to more than 1,000 corporations and businesses around the region, prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resumé information relative to academic, career and personal achievements.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of the relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness is an ongoing process and includes assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester brings a career awareness fair which hosts a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' James McGregor Burns Academy of Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

Strength & Conditioning

In the highly competitive collegiate field hockey world of the '90s, the off-field preparation of the student-athlete is a critical component to the on-field success of any Division I program. Dwight Galt, Marylond's director of strength and conditioning, believes strongly that a solid off-field training program can dramatically improve levels of performance, as well as significantly reduce the chance of injury. The benefit of performing structured strength and power training throughout the entire year has allowed the Terps to reach new levels in physical development.

Barry Kagan

At the University of Maryland, the maximal development of athleticism is the primary goal of the strength and conditioning program. To accomplish this requires more thon just strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, agility, flexibility, conditioning, plyometrics, and nutrition also play critical roles. The Terps' strength staff places substantial emphasis on all these oreos, with special ottention on the improvement of speed potential. Galt and his staff employ a wide range of state-of-the-art training methods to assist in enhancing all aspects of speed development.

The Terrapins ore fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the United States. Conveniently located in the Gossett Football Team House, this facility has excellent aesthetic appeol, with two mognificent skylights and large windows overlooking the playing field at Byrd Stadium. The Terps' spacious weight room includes 7,200 square feet of functional floor space, with two elevated offices that are easily accessible to the training floor.
